Uses clears away all concerns relating to academia, career, and general insecurity:
 • sharing of entertainment content (animal videos and pictures, TV show clips, pictures of random baby girls – sometimes boys)
 • immediate understanding of concerns
 • nuanced and perceptive analysis of the situation
 • impartial judgment
 • potent and realistic advice
 • option of in-person consolation
 • powerful encouragements
 • long-lasting friendship

Warnings

Hurt feelings due to skimming: Annie is prone to skip major chunks of moving content (videos, clips, movies/shows, and even music probably) unless the certain component is not vital to the essence of the whole content. You may disagree with this stance and leave with hurt feelings if Annie skims through the content you share.

Oversaturation with internet content: Occasionally, the thread is filled with links to and images of content from the internet and absent from personally composed words. Negligence of the thread in this state for a prolonged period may damage the quality of the friendship. Seek medical help if the said state remains for an extended period of time.

"Emotionally challenged": Annie claims herself to be "emotionally challenged," and occasionally suffers from expressing affection. This state may inhibit your ability to express affection to Annie as well.
